Insecurity Insight

Data on People in Danger

Insecurity Insight compliance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Data Protection Statement

As a not for profit association, Insecurity Insight regards the lawful and fair treatment of personal information as very important to its successful operations, and to maintaining confidence between our team and all those who use and access our services.

What information will we collect, and how will we use it?

We do not collect personal data from people visiting our website, or our social media sites. If you sign up for our newsletters and updates, we will collect and securely store any personal data you choose to give us (such as your name, and email address) in accordance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation 2018. We may also use personal data to understand which of our services and products are most frequently opened or downloaded, though this data will not be shared outside of the organisation. By signing up to our mailing lists, your data is added to our MailChimp lists, an organisation which manages the technical side of our newsletters. The information securely held by MailChimp only includes your name and email address in the context of the mailing list you have chosen to subscribe to – and will not be shared by them with any other party.

Aid in Danger

Your rights

You have the following rights. If you wish invoke any of the below, please write to us:

- Right to be forgotten: You may terminate your data being held by Insecurity Insight at any time, in which case we will permanently delete your details and all data associated with it.
- Right to rectification: You may request access to and update your data at any time, in order to correct or complete your personal information. You may also contact Insecurity Insight at any time to access, correct, amend or delete information that we hold about you.
- Right of access: Our Data Protection Statement (see above) describes what data we collect and how we use it. If you have specific questions about particular data, you can contact info@insecurityinsight.org for further information at any time.

Complaints

If you have any complaints about how your data is used or about the overall service, please send an email to info@insecurityinsight.org and we will investigate your complaint and respond within 14 days.